LAST EDITION.

THE DYNAMITE MURDER.

One Hundred and Seventy Victims—Thomassen's Atrocious Plot.

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—A Herald special cable from London says: Thomassen, the passenger on the Mosel and owner of the case of dynamite, which caused the terrible disaster at Bremerhaven, has confessed his guilt, saying he has accomplices in New York. It is hoped that he will recover so that full particulars of his crime can be obtained.

The Weser Zeitung, of Bremen, says, authoritatively, that it is proved beyond a doubt that Thomassen was the author of the catastrophe. He has acknowledged that he intended to place a barrel of dynamite on the Mosel for the purpose of destroying her some days after she should leave Southampton. The motive for this diabolical scheme appears to have been to procure exaggerated and fictitious insurance, and to share the profits afterwards with others. The bullet has not yet been extracted from his head, but he is quite conscious.

The barrel had been prepared of strong material and divided into compartments. Another barrel has been discovered, which, it is presumed, was intended for apparatus to ignite. Thomassen was to land at Southampton, where the goods were to be shipped. The apparatus would then be adjusted by clock work, so that it should be ignited after the vessel got to sea from Southampton. It had been intended that the Deutschland should have carried the belated machine, but it was not ready at the time.

It is now shown that the number of victims by the explosion is much larger than at first reported. The killed and wounded number one hundred and seventy. Thomassen was born in New York. He lived in Virginia during the war. From 1863 to 1865 he was engaged in running a blockade, by which he became wealthy. Since 1866 he has resided in Germany. Tuesday night he again attempted suicide by tearing off the dressing placed over the pistol wound, but was prevented by his attendants.

CHARLES O'CONNOR.
NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Nothing has been heard of the condition of Mr. O'CONNOR since last night. He was at that time a little improved, but the physicians say there is no hope of recovery.

The Crooked Whisky Business.
St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 16.—The only thing in whisky circles yesterday was the arrival of Hon. Buford Wilson. The object of this gentleman's visit has not been definitely learned, but certainly has an object. He was in Chicago the day before, and is known to have been engaged upon the question of a general remodeling of the prosecution at this point. Whether that involves the removal of Colonel Dyer is not known as yet, although there are those who assert that it does.

A reporter endeavored to interview Mr. Wilson, but was unable to do so. Colonel Dyer is nowhere to be found, although it is believed he was escorted to the forenoon with Mr. Wilson. No whisky proceedings in the U. S. District Court.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 16.—The case of Deputy Collector Hill was concluded yesterday, and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty on the first, second and third counts of the indictment.

Will Not Hang a Woman.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Dec. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Hollenbach were found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing their son-in-law, Alben, and sentenced to be hanged at Herman, Mo., on the 17th inst. Gov. Hardin, in consideration of the sex, and after a careful examination of the evidence, thinks there are grave doubts as to her being guilty of murder in the first degree. Consequently he commuted her sentence to imprisonment for life in the Penitentiary. Hollenbach has given up all hope of a reprieve, and will undoubtedly be hung on the day fixed.

A Forger at Home.
WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 16.—Lucius W. Pond, who was arrested in San Francisco one week ago to-day, arrived in this city this morning in charge of a detective, and was at once placed in jail. He will be brought before the Court for trial on the charges preferred against him for extensive forgeries.

THE FORTY-FOURTH CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Memorials regarding the sale of intoxicating liquors were referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Morton presented a resolution providing for inquiry into Mississippi election frauds; laid over till to-morrow.

Mr. Stevenson offered, but afterward withdrew, a resolution asking the Secretary of the Treasury for information about the crooked whisky prosecutions. Mr. Morton's resolution to amend Rule 25 was referred to the Committee on Rules.

A memorial was presented from citizens of Louisville, asking the purchase of buildings in that city for the use of the United States Court. Mr. Morton then submitted the following, which, at his request, were ordered printed and to lie on the table:

Resolved, by the Senate, the House of Representatives concurring, That the people of the United States constitute a Nation, are one people, in the sense of National unity.

Resolved, That the Government of the United States is not a compact between States in their municipal and corporate characters, but was formed by the people of the United States in their primary capacity; that the rights of the States are defined and guaranteed by the Constitution, and not by any outside theory of State sovereignty; and that the rights of the States can not be enlarged or diminished except by an amendment to the Constitution.

Resolved, That the rights of the States have the same sanction and security in the Constitution as the rights and power of the National Government, and that local domestic Government by the States, within the limits of the Constitution, is an essential of our free republican system.

Resolved, That the doctrine that a State has the right to secede from the Union is inconsistent with the idea of Nationality, is in conflict with the spirit and construction of the Constitution, and should be regarded as having been forever extinguished by the suppression of the rebellion.

HOUSE.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Mr. Hale, of Maine, offered the following resolution, and moved the previous question on its adoption:

Whereas, The country is suffering under the evils of an irredeemable currency which causes uncertainty in business, and stimulates speculation to the prejudice of legitimate business and labor; and

Whereas, Both political parties in the United States stand committed against repudiation, and in favor of a speedy return to specie payments; and

Whereas, Congress established a like policy to the act of March 16, 1893, which was followed by the act of January 14, 1875, providing for a return to specie payments on the first day of January, 1879; therefore,

Resolved, That, in the judgment of this House, prompt legislative measures should be taken to render said act of January 14, 1875, effective, by placing in the hands of the Secretary of the Treasury whatever powers may be necessary to that end.

After some discussion the resolutions were referred to the Committee on Finance and Banking.

A bill offered by Mr. Starkweather to reduce third class mail to the former postage rate, was referred to the Post-office Committee.

A number of bills were then offered, among which was one by Mr. Bauning, to establish a branch mint in Cincinnati.

The following, by Mr. Holman, was passed by 233 to 33:

Resolved, That in the judgment of this House, in the present condition of financial affairs and the affairs of the Government, no subsidies in money, bonds, public lands, indorsements, or by pledge of public credit should be granted by Congress to Associations or corporations engaged or proposing to engage in public or private enterprises; and that all appropriations from the public Treasury ought to be limited at this time to such amount only as shall be imperatively demanded by the public service.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, offered the following resolution, and moved the previous question on its adoption:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this House, the precedent established by Washington and other Presidents of the United States, in retiring from the Presidential office after their second term, has become by universal concurrence a part of our republican system of government, and that any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwelcome, unpatriotic, and fraught with peril to our free institutions.

The previous question was seconded and the resolution adopted—yeas 232, nays 18.

Mr. Buchner offered a resolution reducing the salary of the President after the 4th of March, 1877.

Mr. Randall introduced a concurrent resolution providing for the adjournment of the House from Monday next till Tuesday, the 4th of January, 1876. He said that he had offered it after conference with both sides of the House. The resolution was agreed to, and the House adjourned till Friday next.

FLASHES.
The magnificent jewels which were lately the property of the Emperor of Persia, and which were sent first to Bombay and ultimately to Calcutta for disposal, have just been purchased by the Maharajah of Patna. The jewels comprise a brilliant cut diamond necklace, silver setting, composed of eighteen large brilliant-cut diamonds, two small ditto, and two large brilliant-cut diamonds, silver setting; a single-stone brilliant, the "Potomac" diamond. The price is rumored to have been about six lakhs of rupees, or $300,000. The Maharajah is said to have one of the finest collections of jewels in India.

A certain Mr. Alton did not like Chicago, so he left Chicago off in his will. The testator died some time ago at Los Angeles, Cal., leaving $10,000 to the county of Los Angeles in trust, to keep it until the principal and interest shall amount to the sum of $30,000, when it becomes the property of the county absolutely. If Los Angeles county declines to accept it, then it is to go to any other county of any other State in the Union which shall elect to accept it, with the same exception of Cook county, Ill., in which Chicago is situated.

One gentleman observed to another: "I have a wife and six children in New York, and I never saw one of them."

"Were you ever blind?" "Oh no," replied the other. "A further lapse of time and then the interrogator resumed the subject. "Did I understand you to say that you had a wife and six children living in New York, and that you had never seen one of them?" "Yes, such is the fact." Here followed a still longer pause in the conversation, when the interrogator, fairly puzzled, said: "How can it be that you never saw one of them?" "Why was the answer, 'One of them was born after I left.'"

A farmer in Seymour, Ind., while examining his corn crib the other day, came across a small jug, whose mouth was stopped by the body of a rat which had tried to get in but had stuck fast. On breaking the jug, he found four other rats inside, all alive. The latter had evidently crawled in, eaten till their sides were stuffed out, and then found it impossible to crawl out again.

The young Baron Rothschild has been quietly roaming around the Territories and through the Pacific States, visiting nearly every place of note. It is reported that he has made arrangements for the investment of twenty millions of dollars in the mines and other resources of Utah, Nevada, and California.

Lord Upton sold Brown a horse. B. meeting the peer some time after

"Madam," exclaimed a cross-gained physician to a patient, "if women were admitted to Paradise their tongues would make it purgatory."—"And some physicians, it allowed to practice there," replied the lady, "would soon make it a desert."

It is estimated at Washington that in 420 years more America will be without fuel. A good many of us will be dead by that time, and some will have no cause to complain of lack of heat.

"Mother," said like Partington, "Did you know that the Iron Horse has but one ear?"—"One ear! merciful gracious, child, what do you mean?"—"Why, the engine-ear, of course."

Political circles in Madrid are not a little agitated by the rumor that Secretary Roteros is threatening the Cuban coast with a fleet of wash-tubs.

A correspondent having described the Ohio as a "sleazy stream," the editor appended the remark: "That's so—it is confined to its bed."

Shott, Esq., No. 230 Longworth street, on the 17th inst.

Still They Come.
It does seem as though that was a true bill, the remark that when a Kentucky couple wishes to unite they elope (with the full consent of parents or guardians) and come to this city, thereby saving a terrible expense in the way of wedding breakfast, elaborate toilets and such. Here's two more couples who were married in this city by Rev. W. J. Fee, at the Merchant Hotel last night. J. M. Brock, of Sparta, Ky., to Miss Kate Burns, of Cynthia, Ky., and Walter J. Ballard to Miss Nannie Yates, both of Richmond, Ky. They will soon hear from fond parents the usual benediction, "Bless you, my children!"—for your thoughtful economy.
